THEY have a queer way of govern ing down in Mexico. The Federal Government has issued $4,000,000 of nickels and will sissue $3,000,000 more. The merchants refuse to receive them at par, generally increasing the price of their goods 100 per cent when to be paid for in nickels, notwithstanding the general government has decreed that they shall be received at their face value. To complicate matters the governors of some of the states have issued decrees that the coin shall be received subject to such regulations as mer chants may choose to make. The Federal Government desires to do away with what we call the "long hit" and decrees that exact change shall be made, but as the "long bit" largely increase their profits it very naturally follows that they oppose he five cent piece.
